

Investing in the Transformation to an Equitable and Ecologically Sound Regional Food System

JANET LEVOFF

Janet has spent her life working in the non-profit sector first in Boston, then New York, learning from wise activists, care givers, and strategists from all over. She is a program officer and board member of the Lily Auchincloss Foundation, Inc., a small family foundation serving the 5 boroughs of New York City.